

Abstract

Backlight intensity is adjusted in a terminal. An adaptation apparatus transmits a visual signal after 5 optimizing brightness or contrast of the visual signal based on the backlight intensity information which is related to the adjusted backlight intensity, so that the user can enjoy digital item with reduced power consumption of the terminal.